

- Jury's statement

The award for Best Drama was granted to director Ron Ninio's series "A Touch Away", produced by Zafirir Kochanovsky and Miri Ezra. "A Touch Away" is a funny, reliable, moving and thrilling drama, which skillfully brings a fascinating multi cultural Israeli encounter to the screen.

The series is well made in terms of cinematic aspects, beginning with the excellent script by Ronit Weiss-Berkowitz, the meticulous casting of excellent actors and the professional direction by Ron Ninio.

- "A Touch Away' absolutely justifies all the superlatives and awards it was granted. The screenplay is believable, the acting is superb, the settings are realistic and virtually every parameter of this production has a painstaking quality to it that could formerly only be seen in imported series". Nir Kipnis, Globus
- "Finally, a true TV drama, well made, with wonderful actors. The dialogues are authentic and generally lead up to a significant event. The acting is superb, realistic and surprising, making this series a milestone in the history of Israeli series". Pini Askel, Walla Culture
- "Like a breath of fresh air. There is no better series on TV. There's something new about it, realistic and daring. Don't miss it". Yaron Tan-Brink, Yediout Aharonot
